

Redstone College Completion and Graduation Rates

Retention Rates:

The retention rate is the percentage of first-time, degree-seeking students from Fall 2009 who were still enrolled at the institution as of Fall 2010.

Completion/Graduation Rates:

The following completion and graduation rates are based upon a limited cohort of (63) first-time, full-time, degree-/certificate-seeking students who entered Redstone College between August 1, 2007, and September 30, 2007, as reported to the Integrated Postsecondary Education Data System (IPEDS). These students were tracked over a three-year period to determine their academic outcomes. These rates do not represent the success rates of the entire student population at Redstone College.

In compliance with the Student Right-to-Know Act and Campus Security Act of 1990 (Public Law 101-542), it is the policy of Redstone College to make available its completion rates to all current and prospective students. Redstone College will maintain and disclose student completion and graduation rates in compliance with Student Right-to-Know. Information on completion and graduation rates of all diploma-, or associate degree-seeking full-time, first-time students will be collected. This information will be made available through appropriate college publications to prospective and currently enrolled students upon request. Information will be available before prospective students enroll or enter into any financial obligation with the college. More information about Student Right-To-Know rates and how they should be interpreted can be obtained at the Registrar's office, Admissions, or in Student Services.
